By train

Take a train to Pisa Centrale railway station. Click here for train schedule and tickets in Italy or use international train services.

By car

Pisa is near the intersection of two highways: A12 north-south (Sestri Levante - Livorno) and A11 east-west (Pisa - Florence). the better exit is "Pisa centro".

NOTE: if you plan to come by car, please inform the organizers before November 20 in order to be allowed to park inside the CNR area.

If you fly to an airport other than Pisa airport

You will have to reach Pisa by train. Here are the main info to reach the station. From there, follow the instructions to reach Pisa.

From Florence (Firenze) Airport:

Take the tramway from Florence Airport to Florence's main railway station - Firenze Santa Maria Novella (SMN) - where direct trains to Pisa Centrale railway station run every half an hour. The journey takes approximately 1 to 1.5 hours.

From Bologna Airport:

Take the Marconi Express shuttle from Bologna Airport to Bologna Centrale railway station, where you can take direct or indirect (changing in Florence) trains to Pisa Centrale railway station. The journey takes approximately 2 to 2.5 hours.

From Genoa (Genova) Airport:

Take the shuttle bus Volabus or the train Genova Airlink from Genova Sestri Ponente Aeroporto to Genova Brignole or Genova Piazza Principe train stations. From either station, there are trains to Pisa Central railway station. The journey takes approximately 2 to 3 hours.

If you fly to Pisa airport

When you arrive you can reach directly CNR or go to the railway station or city center and, from there, to CNR. The airport is on the outskirts of the town, approximately 1.5 km from the city center and 6 km from the CNR Campus.

To directly reach CNR, the easiest is to take a taxi. Ask for “Area ricerca CNR”.

Otherwise, you could take the bus LAM Verde line (direction Via Fra’ Mansueto/PISA Stazione): the stop is 500 meters from the terminal (8 minutes’ walk – see fig. 1). It runs frequently (timetable LAM Verde) and brings you directly to CNR in about 30 minutes, getting off at Volpi-CNR stop.

Another option is to reach the railway station and then proceed to the city center or CNR. To reach Pisa railway station, you can use the direct shuttle connection Pisamover (c. €5). It is in service every day from 6.00 a.m. to midnight. The average travel time between the airport and the railway station is about 5 minutes. The ticket can be purchased from the automatic ticket machines or online.
